Boal and Gillett For Delegates

BULLETIN RECEIVED AT 2 P. M. WEDNESDAY SAYS THAT JONES WILL LEAD MINNS BY 1,000 IN DISTRICT; ALSO THAT PRESENT INDICATIONS ARE THAT BOAL AND GILLETT ARE SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES FOR DELEGATES.

Although the vote throughout the district in the party primaries was very light yesterday a great deal of time was necessary to properly count and tabulate the ballots, due in a great measure to the large number of candidates for delegate at large, congress at large, etc. At this time indications are that Theodore Davis Boal of Center County and Harry B. Scott of Center County are the winners for delegates to the Republican National Convention, with Mellville Gillett and A. H. Gaffney of McKean County standing next in the race. The Congressional race between Evan J. Jones of Bradford and George Minns, Jr., of DuBois is still in doubt as far as the MINER is informed, but indications favor Mr. Jones' success. Democratic results are not reported with any degree of accuracy.

Republican interest in the county centered in the race for National delegates and McKean County returned a good vote for its two candidates, Mellville Gillett of Smethport leads A. H. Gaffney of Kane on the face of present returns. McKean County rallied to its candidate for Congressman and his vote so far as known is five to one in proportion to that received by George Minns of DuBois.

Judge Sylvester B. Sadler of Carlisle casdidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, received a nice vote in this county.

Voters all over the county allowed themselves to be deceived by a similarity of names and because Edward R. Wood's name appeared on the ballot they blindly marked it, thinking so doubt, they were voting for Gen. Leonard B. Wood. Through patient research it has been found that Edward R. Wood is a man 80 years old who resides in Philadelphia and is a crank on office seeking. He has succeeded in making himself the choice on paper of this district, while it is probable that he is not the real choice of half a dozen voters.

In the borough a fair vote was polled by the Republicans the Presidential choice resulting as follows: Edward R. Wood, 69, Leonard Wood 43, Hoover 9, Knox 2, Sproul 2, Harding 1. For delegates to the National Convention, Boal received 29 votes, Boose 25, Donaldson 2, Gaffney 67, Gillett 172, Scott 6. For Senator, Baldwin 152. For Members of Assembly, Catlin 157, Fitzgibbon 150. In the congressional race Jones received 147 and Minns 25. For Judge of the Supreme Court Sadler received 146 and Kunkel 54. L. K. Hogarth was elected committeeman for the borough.

CHILD WELFARE DAY OBSERVED

Yesterday there was a public meeting in the court house at 2 p.m. which was attended by the school children and many others who are interested in the work of the Pennsylvania Anti-Tuberculosis Society, under whose auspices the meeting was held. Prizes were awarded the pupils for essays and posters on health preservation and they were taught health welfare songs.

The picture man was present, who teaches health through his clever fingers. Dressed in an orange smock, trimmed around with fruits and vegetables and wearing a cap crowned with a carrot, he illustrates by rapid cartoon work in colored chalks, the simple rules of health.

Vegetables appear and turn into little men; milk bottles become round-faced girls who spurn the coffee pot that suddenly seems to have become a cross-looking boy. Drawings illustrate what children should eat and drink to become well and strong, the necessity of fresh air, for regular bathing and teeth brushing, and for other points included in the rules of the game of health.

The Picture Man also performed sleight of hand tricks, sang songs and did various stunts that interested the grown people as well as the children.

At 4 p.m., in the Star Theater, through the courtesy of the proprietor, C. C. Choate, a film was shown teaching many valuable lessons of health.

COMMISSIONERS ARE ASKED TO CO-OPERATE

Harrisburg, Pa., May 20.—The Commissioners of McKean County have been asked to co-operate with the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry in the campaign to extinguish forest fires in that locality. Gifford Pinchot, the Chief State Forester, requested the Commissioners to take immediate steps to assist the foresters and local forest fire wardens in obtaining help to fight the flames.

Declaring that many of the forest fires this spring have been set by incendiaries, Forester Pinchot asked the Commissioners to have the county police authorities punish the criminals.

Forester Pinchot's letter to the Commissioners follows:

Gentlemen:—Dangerous and damaging forest fires are burning in many parts of the state and these fires are due in part to the dry, windy weather, which makes them exceedingly difficult to handle, in part to carelessness and in part to criminals who deliberately set the woods on fire. A number of the latter have been arrested and are now in jail.

At least one Pennsylvania town has narrowly escaped destruction from forest fires in the last few days.

The maintenance of the productive powers of the soil within your county should be of intense interest to every County Commissioner. To reclaim thousands of acres of barren land from a scorched wilderness, to a productive condition without doubt appeals to you strongly. The people of your county are interested in the protection of forests from fire, and especially in the punishment of the criminal who purposely sets a forest fire and in awakening those careless individuals who have no regard for the rights of others.

When fires occur, it is often difficult for our foresters and wardens to obtain sufficient help to extinguish the flames. It is not possible for your board to take active steps immediately to help in this most important work in two ways.

Firs. By co-operating with the forester and local forest fire wardens in obtaining help to extinguish fires, and Second. By putting it up to the county detective, sheriff, district attorney and constables to see to it that the criminals are punished for interfering with the welfare of your community?

I assure you that I shall deeply appreciate all the help you can give us, and that the men of the department will be more than glad to do everything they can to co-operate with you in any work along this line which you may undertake.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Commissioner of Forestry

BASE BALL SEASON TO OPEN HERE MAY 30

Manager Bob Hull announces that the first game of the local season will occur at the fair grounds, May 30, on which date the Moose team of Johnsonburg will meet the Smethport team. Smethport's prospects for a fast team before the end of the season are bright. There is considerable new talent to be given a try out and local base ball enthusiasm insures the team good support. The strength and speed of the team that will eventually represent Smethport depends entirely upon the interest shown and support accorded the first few games. If local fans want a good team it is up to them to make their desires known in a substantial way.

THOMAS MILLER KILLED HIMSELF AT HAZELHURST

Despondent because his wife, Matilda Block Miller refused to live with him, Thomas Miller of Hazelhurst, a glassworker, aged 38 years, committed suicide by shooting himself with a double-barreled shotgun Sunday. The body was discovered by his son, aged 6 years, where it lay in a bedroom of the house occupied by Miller. The little fellow at once notified relatives and neighbors of his discovery, but Miller was dead when they reached his side. Miller had whittled and notched a stick in such a manner that the gun could be discharged by its manipulation. It is believed that he laid on the floor, holding the gun above him or at his side and pulled both triggers with the notched stick. The shots blew his chin away entering his body in a downward direction in the region of the heart.

Mrs. Miller had not been living with her husband for some time, and had instituted divorce proceedings on the ground of cruel treatment. This case was heard at court here Saturday, but no decision had been rendered. Saturday night Miller, who had made repeated attempts to persuade his wife to drop the divorce proceedings and return to him, renewed his plea for a reconciliation, but his wife refused to return to him.

Sunday morning he appeared at the house where she was staying and gave her a sum of money and an order for his wages from the glass factory, saying, "Till, you will never be bothered with me again unless it is to take me to the Kasson cemetery." Mrs. Miller says she protested against taking the money, but he left it and returned to his home two doors away. About an hour later some of the neighbors heard a shot, but no investigation was made until the little boy happened to wander into the house and saw the body of his father.

At the request of District Attorney E. C. Potter an inquest was held at Hazelhurst Monday by Coroner S. D. Heffner of Bradford. The jury returned a verdict of suicide.

Thomas Miller is survived by his wife two sons and a daughter. He was a man well spoken of in the community where he lived and has many friends who are grieved at the tragic ending of his life.

DESPERATE CRIMINALS

A report that a detective was in Smethport recently on the trail of a murderer has reached this office. The man, it is alleged, killed a fellow workman in a New Jersey town, and positive evidence was found that he had been in Smethport for at least one day. It is understood that the detective picked up the trail here and departed in hot pursuit of the criminal.

That a bank robber also wanted in various portions of the United States made Smethport a visit is reported, but escaped before the sleuths could apprehend him. Smethport being sort of off the beaten paths of commence may become noted as a port of missing men—not. Our tireless lynx-eyed minions of the law will see that Smethport gains no such unenviable reputation.

TWO COMPANIES TO DRILL FIFTEEN WELLS

POTTER AND SMETHPORT GAS COMPANIES HAVE RIGS ON MOUNTAIN TOPS—HIGH WINDS MAKE GUY WIRES NECESSARY

Drilling operations in this vicinity will continue brisk through the summer according to present indications. It is understood that the Potter Gas Company's program includes the drilling of ten wells on their leases east of this borough, two having been completed. The last one was finished Saturday night and is said to be a good gasser. The rig for the third well was completed Saturday and is located on the top of the ridge back of A. F. Reeves' farm and is visible for miles in every direction. The top of the third rig comes very near being the highest point in Pennsylvania, as the hill on which it is located is very nearly as high as Prospect Hill, which lacks but a few feet of being the highest point in the state. The rig will be reinforced against the high winds by guy wires.

The Smethport Gas Company has a well nearly finished at the head of Irish Hollow which is also considerably elevated. It is on top of the "hogback" which is scarcely fifty feet wide at that point. The first rig was blown down before drilling operations could be started and the present derrick is held in place by a liberal use of guy wires. The Smethport Gas Company will drill five wells in that vicinity this season, it is understood.

TIME IS GETTING SHORT

Attention of subscribers is called to the fact that the subscription price of the MINER will be increased to $2.50 pe ryear June 3, 1290. Until that date subscriptions will be accepted at $2.00 per year as far in advance as subscribers care to pay, and after that date the price will be $2.50 to everybody. Better pay a year or two in advance today.

ATTENTION AUTOISTS

Mrs. D. S. Helmer, of Port Allegany informs the MINER that Capt. S. N. Dancey, the speaker who delighted a large crowd of people here in institute week will give an address on "Americanization" in Port Allegany, Sunday, to which all are invited. Weather permitting he will speak in the public square. Mrs. Helmer extends a special invitation to Smethport people. Capt. Dancey was in a German prison during the war and escaped after several months confinement. Those who heard him at institute will undoubtedly welcome the opportunity to hear him again and motor to Port Allegany next Sunday. Capt. Dancey is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Helmer during his stay in that place.

DIRT ROADS TO BE IMPROVED

Kane, Pa., May 19.—Charles Nystrom of Wetmore is to succeed William O'Connor as supervisor of the state highway from Kane borough line to Wetmore and expects to take over the work at once. Supervisor F. L. Scott of Smethport, called upon him Saturday and this forenoon in conversation with a newspaper representative, Mr. Nystrom stated that he intended communicating with Mr. Scott today and accepting the appointment providing the latter would come and turn over the tools to him now in possession of Mr. O'Connor.

The change is one of the most important that has been made in this vicinity for some time and bids fair to improve dirt roads in the territory over which Mr. Nystrom will have charge. This stretch of road is rough, full of ruts and stones and the ditches are not in a condition to take care of the surface water. Mr. O'Connor has not given the road the attention it needed, claiming that he was unable to get teams or men. Mr. Nystrom has two teams of his own and will use one of them all the time and both of them part of the time. He states that he can also procure teams from Mr. Keeler and his neighbors.

LETTER FROM ADDA BURCH

Los Angeles, May 8, 1920.

Editor Smethport Miner and friends of "Auld Lang Syne," who may still remember me, I am just penning these few lines to let you know that I am still alive and busy as ever. Last Tuesday was a "busy day" at the poles for me and one that was long drawn out as well as the midnight hour was past ere I sought my downy bed—I used to say when in South America that no one could call me a "pillar" in the mission, but one thing I did know and that was I was one of the soundest sleepers in it and I still keep up the reputation of being a splendid sleeper—am never asleep on my job, but sleep at the proper time. What doctor is it who tells us that sleep is better than medicine. Well in our county the Republicans were ahead—our county W. C. T. U. convention which is larger than some conferences in the east is over and with practically a new set of officers elected. The retiring president who had served so faithfully and well for twelve years was presented with a unique bouquet of pink carnations from what fluttered $102 crisp dollar bills as taken of love from the convention among those who were honored by their own union in having their name put in "The Book of Remembrance" of the national W. C. T. U., was your scribe—and we certainly think that Los Angeles Co. will take place in the fore front in the publicity line for 20,735 columns were published during the year. As county superintendent I have spoken at ten out of 12 press day programs, held by the various unions—as president of a Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, I have had charge of three entertainments, two lecturers and one concert, and have secured $55 to apply on the church debt and beside this we are far ahead in the financial part of the society. In my spare moments I kept busy registering voters. The next thing is state convention at Long Beach, May 18-21.

Sincerely,
ADDA BURCH.

ELDRED

The entire property of the Eldred Home Gas & Fuel company has been levied upon and seized by the sheriff of McKean County at the suit of the Bradford Supply Company, and will be sold at public sale at the Court House, Smethport, at 1 o'clock, June 7. This climax to the career of the local company was not unexpected. From the time J. D. Downing took the Gas company's stock deposited by A. R. Sloan as collateral in the Eldred bank, and turned thec into the Barden interests, giving them control of the company, the affairs have been more or less open to public criticism for inefficiency. After the Eldred Window glass factory refused to bicker with them and went to Punxsutawney, their service with the Kervin plant nearly ended in a law suit, with a result that the plant went out of business. But little attention has been given to keeping the property up or developing leases, yet with depreciating service, the price of gas has been shoved up to the top-notch. There could be but one result, eventually, and how the affairs will now terminate is a question. There are a lot of bonds out, and the holders will probably have to cover to protect themselves. The stock is held by the Barden brothers, or estate, but will not likely be of much value after the present shakeup is adjutsed. It would be a big help to the town if the management does get into the hands of parties who will give the business the attention required to make it a paying proposition—and also a serviceable one.

Several frogs have been recovered from the water line this spring. Wednesday it was necessary to dig through the pavement in front of the bank where it was found that a frog had lodged in the connection. How they got into the line is a puzzle as all inlet openings are screened and afford no opportunity for the animals getting in there. Several private lines have been plugged and quite a lot of inconvenience experienced by the frogs.

NEW BANK GOVERNOR SEES CRASH FROM SPENDING

Extravagance Cause For H. C. of L. and Profiteering.

Suggests Lower Taxation on Savings.

"The American people are headed for a financial crash which can be averted only by their coming to their senses speedily and ending the drunken orgy of extravagance."

This warning was sounded by George W. Norris on assuming his new duties as Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, Third Federal Reserve District.

"The high cost of living will come down only when people want it to come down," he said. "Proof of this desire will be presented when they stop their riotous spending.

"As long as mechanics will wear silk shirts and stenographers wade through slush in satin slippers, the high cost of living will stay up.

"Extravagance throughout is profligacy. The retail dealers cannot be blamed for selling what the public demands. Every person who buys unsuitable goods, or who fails to take care of goods after they have been purchased, is helping to keep up the cost of living.

"Nor is this folly and extravagance confined to persons of small means. Persons who have made large profits out of war contracts or speculations are wasting money in riotous living. The restaurants on Broadway and the expensive shops on Fifth Avenue, New York, and similar establishments in all the other cities are crowded daily and nightly. It would probably be impossible to adopt a suggestion of one prominent economist, and tax people not on the income they receive but on the money they spend. It ought to be possible, however, to adopt the suggestion of the Treasury that there should be no reduction in the income tax in respect to incomes spent for unnecessary or ostentatious consumption, but that income saved and invested should be taxed at a lower rate. Increased production, decreased consumption, and saving to the limit are the three sure remedies for the high cost of living.

"No economic machinery and no legislation will solve the problem. It rests entirely in the hands of the people. They can effect the change when they come to their senses and so decree."

WHICH IS SAFER: OLD SHOE OR U. S. VAULT?

The Shoe On the Other Foot.

It is better to be safe than sorry where your savings are concerned. The money which costs you long hours of labor with brain or hand to save, which cost self-denial and will power, should be safeguarded in every way. The difference between safeguarding savings and failure to do so is amply illustrated by what happened to the savings of George Dumbinsky, of Greensburg Pa and Mrs. M. L. Struen, of Butte, Montana. Each had a savings of $3000.

George Dumbinsky hid his savings in a pair of old shoes which he left lying about his boarding house, believing no one would steal anything so apparently worthless as the discarded footwear. But Andy Olvek, a fellow boarder, decided to return to Austria and he wanted to show his fellow townsmen the kind of shoes that are worn in America, so he picked up George Dumbinsky's discarded boots and took them with him. When he neared Rotterdam, a fellow-passenger on the steamer told him that he would have to pay $25 duty on the old shoes, so he threw them overboard, and Dumbinsky's $3000 with them. That was Dumbinsky's life savings, and it was gone forever.

Mrs. Struen invested her $3000 savings in Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps. Recently her store was robbed and everything of value taken. But the loss of the Liberty Bonds and Savings Stamps did not worry her, for they were registered in her name, and could not be disposed of by the robbers. She will get her money in full for the registration by the government has protected her, and she will secure duplicate securities if hers are not recovered, but George Dumbinsky will never recover his $3000 from the ocean.

MT. JEWETT

A burglar was frustrated in the attempt to enter the home of T. W. Bell, late Sunday evening, either by two young men of the neighborhood, who were returning home from town, or by the uneasiness of the dog which belonged to Mr. Bell. The would be burglar left the porch and was followed by the young men to a short distance when he pulled a revolver, forcing the young men to desist the chase. Mr. Bell had left earlier in the evening for work, leaving Mrs. Bell alone. She heard the dog but paid no attention to him and went to sleep thinking the dog was uneasy over the workmen going to and from work at the glass plant.

While returning to their home at Hazelhurst from Mt. Jewett last Friday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garagg and son, escaped what might have been a serious accident.

A telephone pole had broken which lowered the wires across the road. As the car came along the wires took the wind shield and the top off clean. The driver ducked forward enough so that he was missed and Mr. and Mrs. Garagg happened to be leaning over talking and escaped having their heads severed from their bodies. They were bruised about the shoulders.

If we are to have a base ball team to represent Mt. Jewett on the diamond this season we'll have to get busy. The playing season is here and no move has yet been made to organize or otherwise line-up a team. Our neighboring towns have all perfected organizations and their citizens have generously volunteered financial support of their respective clubs.—Herald.

INDISCRIMINATE BONUS WASTE AT THE SACRIFICE OF TRUE WAR RELIEF.

The member of Congress who wants to hand out bonus payments right and left regardless of whether the recipient needs or deserves a bonus simply wants to buy votes for himself, cracking open the National Treasury to pay for them.

This is a desecration of the altars of patriotism in the flagrant betrayal of the interests of the country, the welfare of the public and the good repute of the armies which broke the Hindenburg line—all sacrificed to the vote seeking appetite of political jobbers.

It is an unspeakable insult to the upstanding, duty performing American who is not for sale to bribing Congressmen or to anybody at any price. Thousands of our returned soldiers would no more demand the bonus than they would demand the nation's shame. Thousands of them would no more take it than they would take poison.

It is an immeasurable wrong to the tempted creature who may feel that the bribing Congressman, because of his bonus purchase price, has a stronger claim upon him than the priceless duties, obligations and ideals of American citizenship.

It will be an everlasting blot upon this as yet stainless nation if one man, one woman or one child that has become a helpless, hopeless victim of the war is not cared for generously and gladly by the American people so long as there is need of such care. But every dollar of war relief that is misplaced and misused where it is not needed, where it does not belong, where it ought not to go, will be a dollar subtracted from the help due to those that imperatively require and incomparably merit help. If billions of dollars are thus scattered and wasted not because they are needed or deserved but as mere bribes for votes when those billions ought to be used or saved for the suffering, then it will never be possible to give full justice and adequate help to those who do need and do deserve, and who—God pity them!—will so need and so deserve for years.

While in the first instance, therefore, an indiscriminate Congress distribution of bonus billions is a raid upon the National Treasury, in the last analysis it is looting the real sufferers of the war; it is taking the very bread out of the mouths of the war's maimed, disabled and bereft who never should be left in want to the last stroke of the clock.

For a Congress whose honor is now at stake, whose country's rendering of justice hangs in the balance, whose fellow men wish to do and are determined to do what is right for our permanent victims of the war, it is not too late to save itself from faithless breach of duty, to save American citizenship from the deepest reproach that can fall upon it, to save the American name from the stigma of playing filthy politics with the most sacred issue in the national realm.

Upon attempted bonus bribery let the manhood, the honesty and the Americanism of Congress irrevocably turn its back. For the right, the necessary and the true war relief let them stand like a rock.—N. Y. Sun.

The foregoing article seems characteristic of the attitude taken by the press of the country over the bonus matter. The big argument raised against it is that the already heavily taxed people would have this tax added to their burden. In the opinion of this paper, however, affairs at Washington will so shape themselves in the event of a Republican victory next fall that the matter of a satisfactory bonus bill along the lines now being discussed can be passed and financed by the stoppage of foolish expenditures now countenanced by the present administration. A case in point is the fact that one department is selling merchandise at pre-war prices while another department is buying the same kind of goods at an advance of 100 per cent. The stopping of this method of conducting business should soon provide a strong foundation for the bonus fund.

Really, the anti-third-term argument will not be needed in case Mr. Wilson tries again.

As a contribution to the discussion as to whether we should have peace or not, the speech of President Wilson before the Belgian Parliament of June 19, 1919, may be recalled. In it he said, "I would turn for a moment with you to the significance of the place which Belgium bears in this contest which thank God is ended.

Mr. McAdoo, as a candidate for votes, says he favors the appointment of a Secretary of Agriculture "who understands actual farm conditions," which might mean a college professor who never actually farmed a day in his life. Passing up Mr. McAdoo's clever generalization which would commit him to nothing in particular, what chance would McAdoo have had to be director of railroads if the President had adopted the policy of appointing to that position a man who "understands actual railroad conditions." Isn't William G. giving his father-in-law a rather hard rap?

That the average voter does not give as much thought to selecting his choice for President of the United States as he would to selecting a pair of socks was demonstrated right here in the borough Tuesday when 69 citizens blindly voted for Edward R. Wood of Philadelphia under the delusion that they were voting for Gen. Leonard Wood. This, despite the fact that their attention has been called to the similarity of names and warnings issued, every week not to allow the similarity to confuse them. Workers at the polls pointed out the danger to as many as could be reached but despite these activities many voters blundered on.

That must have been an annoying oversight that the Bradford Star-Record was guilty of Monday night when it published an article taken from last week's MINER regarding the Republican candidates and omitted all reference to Captain Mellville Gillett, leaving it to be inferred that Captain Gillett's home town paper did not consider him worthy of mention. The MINER prefers to regard the matter in the light of an unfortunate mistake as it does not seem possible that the Star-Record would intentionally commit such a dirty little trick of peanut politics.

It is understood that the new constitution of the state in the last article, section seven, provides that county treasurers, sheriffs and commissioners be elected. All other county officers shall be elected or appointed as may be provided by law. This matter was brought to the attention of the MINER by a citizen who says that under this section the offices of register and recorder, prothonotary, district attorney and clerk of the courts will in due probability cease to be elective offices. The offices will be filled by appointments made at Harrisburg. This theory of centralizing all the power of local government at Harrisburg should be strongly opposed. It might work well politically, but it is not sound governmental policy. Those whose views are in opposition to this proposed section should write the Attorney General expressing their views on the matter.

Despite the fact that the 2.75 beer bill passed the Massachusetts Senate 26 to 6 and the House 145 to 38, Governor Coolidge promptly vetoed it, uttering these words of wisdom:

There is little satisfaction in attempting to deceive ourselves. There is grave danger in attempting to deceive the people. If this act were placed on the statute books of this commonwealth today it would provide no beer for the people. No one would dare act upon it, or if any one did he would certainly be charged with crime. Similar laws in other states are to date ineffective. I am opposed to the practice of a legislative deception. It is better to proceed with candor. Wait until the Supreme Court of the United States talks.

We have had too much legislation by clamor, by tumult, by pressure. Representative government ceases when outside influence of any kind is substituted for the judgment of the representative. This does not mean that the opinion of constituents is to be ignored. It is to be weighed most carefully, for the representative must represent, but his oath provides that it must be "faithfully and impartially, according to the best of his abilities and understanding, agreeably to the rules and regulations of the Constitution and laws."

The authority of the law is questioned in these days all too much. The binding obligation of obedience against personal desire is denied in many quarters. If these doctrines prevail all organized government, all liberty, all security are at an end.

Good sense! Sound judgment! The more we hear of and from Calvin Coolidge, the better we like both his character and his way of putting things.—Harvey's Weekly.

JUST JOTTINGS

New summer styles in female wearing apparel, it is said, will make women look shorter. It is a safe bet, however, that they will make men look longer.

Overheard in a barber shop: "Well, that was a quick shave all right, I can make my train now with two minutes to spare." And the barber replied: "I could have shaved you quicker than that if I had had a little more time."

"When will your husband return?" "That is hard to tell. He has gone down cellar."

One enthusiastic free advertiser with some drive or other on hand who gets paid for letting the newspapers do the work says. "The article is very important; box it if possible." We couldn't box it, so we basketed it. (This skit is for printers only).

Vice President Marshall is a joker—and not exactly a dry joker. The other day he told that august body of which he is president, the United States Senate, that he was convinced that if every member of that body had voted as his personal feelings dictated that the prohibition amendment would not have mustered a dozen votes in its favor.

The poultry business must be booming these days if one is to judge by the number of "settin' hens" one hears about.

Twinkle, twinkle Movie Star,
I don't have to wonder what you are!
Your substance surely is no riddle,
'Cause your clothing scarce would dust a fiddle!

Mr. McClellan is a Mt. Jewett product having spent all his boyhood days here, and his many friends will be pleased to offer congratulations.

—Mrs. Lucy C. Gordon has returned from an extended visit with her son Rex Gorton of El Cajon, Calif., where her daughter, Mrs. Wright Smith is also now a resident. On her way home, Mrs. Gorton stopped at Detroit for a visit with her son, MacArthur Gorton and family of that city. It is understood that Mrs. Gorton contemplates making her home in California, eventually and with that end in view will dispose of her property in Smethport.

—An important real estate deal, consummated Monday, was the purchase by Louis J. Kreinson of the Bay State hotel building on Main street, from Mrs. Catherine Hurley. Mr. Kreinson stated this afternoon that he was unable to state at this time just what his future plans were in regard to his new property. The Bay State hotel building, which is located at Nos. 70 and 72 Main street, was built by P. C. Hurley. It is a modern brick building, three stories in height and covering an area 44x100 feet. It is one of the landmarks of Bradford. The present building was erected in 1896 and is a modern first-class hotel building in every particular. After the death of the proprietor, P. C. Hurley, the widow, Mrs. Catherine Hurley, assumed the management, which she continued with the capable assistance of her sons, until last fall when the building was leased to James Rich, who is now conducting the hotel.—Star-Record.

W.-S. S. A BADGE OF CITIZENSHIP

Jersey Judge Refuses Papers to Woman Who Refuses to Buy Government Securities.

The possession of Thrift and Savings Stamps is a part of Americanism, according to Judge William Watson, of the Common Pleas Court, of Passaic, N. J.

He recently refused the application for citizenship of Mimi Bevar, of Paterson, because she was shown to have refused to buy Savings Stamps or to support the American Red Cross during the war.

Not only do Savings Stamps give the owner a partnership with the government, but they entail the duties of a partner on the part of the possessor. For that reason Judge Watson considers them reliable evidence of qualification for citizenship.

BUY W. S. S.

THRIFT SPARKS

Money talks and the easiest thing it says is "good-bye."

Thrift, like charity and good manners, begins at home.

Benjamin Franklin said: "A rolling stone gathers no moss." A careless spender gets no W. S. S.

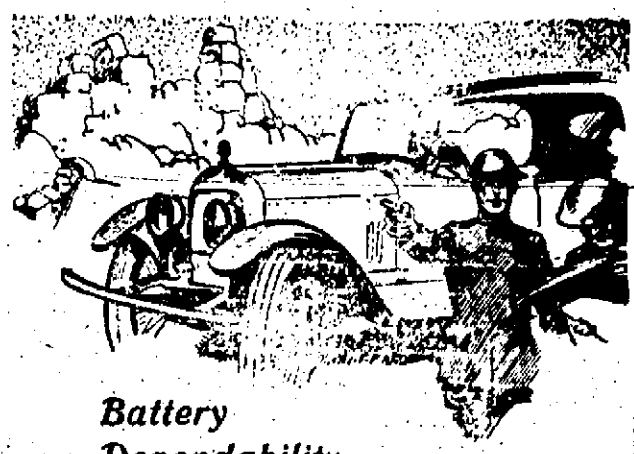
A fool and his money are soon parted. Are you proud of yourself?

Reducing the waist line to meet the new 1920 spring models is not nearly so important to the housewife this year as reducing her "waste" line.

Being patriotic by buying W. S. S. is like being a good citizen while you are in jail. Real patriots are on the job 366 days in the year. Buy government securities.

Practice thrift and save regularly for thirty days, and you will never abandon the habit; in that time you will have learned how much it means to you.

Mothers owe it to their children to instil in them the habit of saving, not only money, but of food, clothes, and other articles.



Battery Dependability

The war proved conclusively the great importance of the motor car. It also proved the importance of the starting and lighting battery. On a vast number of cars used by American officers in the field of operations, the was used as the power supply for automobile starting and lighting.

The "Exide" will serve you just as faithfully as it served the United States Government in time of war. Made by the largest maker of storage batteries in the world, the "Exide" Battery represents the last word in storage battery design and manufacture. The "Exide" "costs most to make, but least to use." Come in and let us show you why the "Exide" that is made to meet the specific demands of your starting and lighting is the right battery for your car.
